

App Guide

GREEN ZONE:

The internet can be a dangerous place for teens. However, we feel these apps are the “lesser of three evils” as they can (when used wisely) help a student shine online to impress colleges and future employers. If your students want to have a profile on these networks/apps, please consider having a dialog with them and knowing that these networks are the place to start on social media.

GRAY ZONE:

We recommend you have a dialog with your kids about inappropriate content if your kids have these apps. We suggest every parent put in the time each month to have a dialog with their kids about the apps they are using. This is the best way to keep your kids safe (not by restricting the kids, but by talking with them).

App Guide

RED ZONE:

These are the apps we do not recommend. These apps usually have inappropriate and un-moderated content. Also, they lend themselves to cyber-bullying. Often, these apps are anonymous and will encourage students to behave badly. They are also more prone to bullying and predators in this zone.
