Bienvenido el parrochia!

V. 45 #37

Dear Parents, Guardians, and Friends,

ASSEMBLY THIS MORNING: We prayed---(today's first reading was about Namaan who had leprosy and was cured by God through Elisha the prophet); used the "space bubble" concept from Focus 5 to keep distance; Mrs. Lundy presented on how to make this an "opportunity time" to learn new things, break bad habits, and suggestions listed below. Mrs. Whelan ran us all through some great exercises we could do each day (and I kept up!). I closed with a recap and some personal comments from ICS grad Tom Funfsinn in Beijing on his Day 50 of lock-in and his words of encouragement, myth busting, alarmism, and social solidarity.

Our Teachers have really been working hard. We trained students how to navigate Homework Central with tabs for their classes. Teachers will be on-line during the school day but have 24 hours to get back to you. We will also have school open tomorrow at 8:00 for book pick-up. AR tests will be in the form of a written book report for credit.

Students will not be held accountable for new material during this time. We will expect previous projects fulfilled for a grade. i.e. DC project, Civil Rights project, Spanish project due tomorrow etc. Despite the non-accountability mandate, we cannot afford to lose two weeks of academic time or maybe even more. Students need to keep a routine and make this opportunity a positive one. Humans are social beings. May this time help us appreciate each other even more!

This is a great time to understand selfishness vs. selflessness. Our heroes are the healthcare industry, first responders, food transporters and providers and social media which will help us keep in touch with Grandma and Grandpa. We can come back to school on March 31, better than we are today, the same, or worse. I reminded the students to "own their education". The e-learning they will do will benefit them well into their future in high school and life skills.

8 parents came in to help today and we had more waiting in the wings if needed. THANK YOU!

God sits with us on the 'thinking bench' as we work through this. We must pray and act.

e-LEARNING: Go to Homework Central off our webpage. Links, resources, google docs etc.

REPORT CARDS Students are reminded to get late work in to their teachers, do AR in book report form, and follow instructions from today from their teachers. Report cards will not be printed. Review them on-line after March 26.

CLEANING: There will be extra cleaning performed while we are out of the building. We are reviewing other options as well.

MORE CANCELLATIONS:

Tonight's field trip meeting for Grades 6-7 is postponed till later notice.

Chicago and Memphis Field Trips---postponed till later notice.

Butterfly Field Trip, 6th Grade to St. Louis Basilica cancelled for now.

Due to the mandated school closures through March 30, 2020, Young Authors' Conference is cancelled.
