USCCB Pastoral

Dear Parents, Guardians, and Friends,

Stop and take a look before our Altar of the statue of the Resurrected Jesus. Donated by Catherine Linnemann, former Parents and Friends President.

409 Today is our Address!

Fr. Gary Hogan called and asked me to let you know that he has been diagnosed with pancreatic cancer, and the GI doctor said that surgery is not an option. He had a procedure done today to relieve the pressure on his intestines from the pancreatic cancer, which caused his most recent pain episode that landed him in Mercy Hospital early Monday morning. He is waiting to meet with his oncologist, and is still at Mercy (room 5325). Fr. Gary emphasized to me that he has no problem with letting everyone know his diagnosis.

Let us lift him up in prayer during this Easter Season!

Fr. Carl

Dear Monsignors/Fathers,

Fr. Dale Maxfield has returned to the rectory at New Baden and has entered hospice. Members of his family are with him. Father Dale asked that I write to all of you to let you know about his situation and request your prayers. Please keep Father Dale in your prayers; pray also for his family. May our Lord give Father Dale the graces he needs at this time.

In Christ,

Bishop Michael McGovern

Fr. Carl reminded us this week that the Octave of Easter(8 days) is treated like one day in the Scriptures and we have one amazing revelation after another. In one homily, Fr. Carl highlighted the conspiracy theories about famous people who die. (Elvis, Emmitt Till, Lincoln, JFK, etc.) They cooked one up for Jesus too. (Any Roman soldier who fell asleep on duty was executed.) But the real truth was Jesus was seen alive by 516 people according to accounts in Scripture. And as Christians, over a quarter of the year is taken up by Lent and the 50 day Easter Season!

Fr. Nick Asked us to pray for the grace to be vulnerable. The most strong are the most vulnerable. Jesus stayed in his humanity---see my wounds, ate with the Disciples...He stayed vulnerable to show his power over life and death.

And then we had Emmaus:

They recognized Him in the Breaking of the Bread. And how is it that the two Disciples only had one name mentioned---Cleophas? The other was his wife Philomene. When Scripture is searched out, you can find it even more interesting than a male version.

Are not our hearts burning within us? This week was the 2nd anniversary of the death of Fr. Steve Humphrey. He is the reason we go to Memphis. He also helped raise the money to purchase our campus. Rest in peace Fr. Steve!

NEW LIFE: The Voyda Family added a sweet baby girl on April 1st. Little Evan sent a clever "April Fools Baby" video to his teacher. Vera Marie was born on April 1st to David and Brittney, with a very proud big brother in Evan, and he made a point to tell the Principal about Vera! New life is always so exciting, and Vera is a special gift!

Spring Pictures are ready. www.keevenevents.com for viewing and purchasing. The password is: spring. Order by April 20, 2021 for school package pricing and free shipping through school.

END OF THE YEAR CALENDAR: With the approval of the Board and Diocese, we will hold to May 21 as the last day of school. The next week will be school for the faculty and staff as we finish our paper work for the year, review 20-21, hold exit interviews, and plan for a joyous and exciting 2021-2022! Parents of the Class of 2021 will receive a separate calendar to mark their commencement into High School.

PARENTS AND FRIENDS We need someone to take on the Secretary role. We have a fine tuned organization and you will be proud to play a role in it! Keep ICS moving upward and onward in the light of the Gospels!

April 15---It's the Principal's birthday. So instead of all the cards and love notes this year, how about something from his wish list? How about a free will (NO DRESS DOWN DAY) donation, for Autism Awareness? Any amount is fine as we promote acceptance and inclusion of our brothers and sisters. Easter Seals Midwest!

Colton (Izzy, Susie, Ron) Funk's Story as told by his Mom Susie:

We were blessed with our amazing little man, Colton, and for the first year of his life the world seemed normal. He progressed well, and he seemed to meet his milestones. He was a very happy little boy. However, after his first birthday we started noticing he wasn't meeting milestones and was falling farther and farther behind. Little pieces of the Colton we knew started to disappear. He no longer made eye contact or noticed when you called his name. He rarely laughed, but the biggest place we noticed this was in his speech. Colton only had 3 words. THREE WHOLE WORDS (mama, dada, and no). Then he began regressing and losing words. By 18 months he only had 2 words (no and mama), and "mama" was not used in context it was just babbling. We became worried at this point, and had concerns that he may be Autistic.

From the time he could sit he would reach his hands and legs out and move them in an odd motion that everyone found cute, but it just didn't seem normal. He didn't play with toys, and he would just sit and spin the wheels to his cars. He didn't really play with toys or with others. It was almost as if you weren't even there.

At his 18 month checkup in June they recommended a hearing test. We also met with Early Intervention on Zoom. They assessed him and saw delays in speech and development. Then, he passed his hearing test. We started speech therapy quickly after that. He also immediately started Physical Therapy and Occupational Therapy. It all felt like so much at that point.

We then met with Children's Neurology who recommended he be evaluated for Autism. We got in to the Mercy Kids Autism Center on August 27, 2020. That day we received Colton's official diagnosis. He was officially diagnosed with Autism Spectrum Disorder Level 3 and Developmental Language Disorder. I walked out of the appointment in a fog yet feeling a wave of relief. They filled my arms with books and resources to begin reading through, and man did I ever. We began to educate ourselves on every aspect that we could to help our son.

Within a few short weeks Colton began his daily therapy program in Fenton. He works hard to learn to play...yes he has to learn to play. By October, he had his own ipad for communication to use as an augmentative and alternative communication device (AAC).

Colton now goes to therapy 5 days a week and man is he doing awesome!!! We have gained an amazing team of therapists that work with him and have watched him continue to surpass goals set before him!

We are preparing to go to a two week intensive parent training program through Easter Seals Midwest. During that program they will teach us how to apply the same therapies at home as he utilizes while he is at therapy so that we can also help work with him and create consistency. They will teach us how to see things from Colton's perspective so we can have a better understanding of how to work with him in a way he understands and how to keep him safe.

He really is one of a kind! He loves water, dirt, lights, noise, and just about anything that spins! I almost forgot....he loves his Puppy Dog Pals too!!! Every day he amazes us with how he sees the world. He sees the world through a different lens, and has started showing us how to see things differently too!! Remember that Autistic individuals may be different, but if you stop and try to see things through their lens you may see the world in a whole different color!

4th Grade Math Test---and yes, Fr. Nick aced it! He's getting ready to take the pastor's test in a few years.

175th Anniversary Artifact of the Week:

The Bells One of the joys of being an Altar Server was the ringing of this bell at our Church on Main to signal the start of Mass. No procession back then. Father came out from the vesting sacristy and on we went. Foreign language. Back to the people most of the time. We moved this bell to the gym and put it back into service for school Masses. Fr. Carl's "NBC" chimes, which call us to worship now, were found in the move out here and respectfully placed back into service.

SECOND SUNDAY OF EASTER PROVE IT TO ME!

"The community of believers was of one heart and mind."

*"For the love of God is this, that we keep his commandments.
And his commandments are not burdensome,
for whoever is begotten by God conquers the world.
And the victory that conquers the world is our faith."*

And then there is "Prove it to me". Believing in something over around 2000 years old might make one question their faith. But we have eye witness accounts. We have a God who is so unbelievable that He is believable. You and I would never sit down, have a beer, and dream up a God so counter cultural in standing up to human nature. But experience over a lifetime teaches us that His way is The Way! Our power comes from our vulnerability. Power is having it and not using it. Lifting others lifts us. And death is the beginning of real life.

Faith is believing in the unbelievable. Come and see his wounds. Come and eat with Him. Come and celebrate that we are going to be dead to this world a lot longer than we will be alive. And that is Faith!

Mike Kish

Principal

PS And Karen Weiler is a high-powered 409 as well as we celebrate her birthday today! She is 30 years away from the comment I got the other day---“You look young for an old person.”

PS Catholic Relief Services Rice Bowls can be brought in after Easter. This sign of our Almsgiving!

Well, the Easter Bunny gets to hop back into his hole and pull the whole in after him for another year. Rabbit's foot, rabbit fever, dastardly wabbit---a popular rodent for sure! Over 100 eggs found at our house!

From Pope Francis:

Leader: Spring is a time of change. Some changes we await eagerly, others we resist. Some changes we plan, others arrive uninvited. To accept all of these changes, we ask for Your Grace, Lord. May Spring's sunlight and rain be reminders that You are at work renewing the earth, just as You are always at work in our lives, renewing us through change. Open our eyes to the changes needed in our lives and our world this spring. May our work for the missions change us, making us more open to the wonders You have created in this world of change. All: Amen.

Our response today is: Let Us Praise You and Work For Change, Lord.

When we see others who have less than we do...R/

When we are tempted to think our actions do not matter...R/

When problems seem too big and we want to give up...R/

When we are challenged to stand up for what is right...R/

When others do not acknowledge You as Creator of all life...R/

We thank You Lord, for hearing our prayers as we seek to do Your will in our ever-changing world.

Closing Song: Canticle of the Sun (Haugen)
